

The current GRE General Test will not be offered after July 31, 2011. Starting August 1, 2011, the Revised GRE General Test will replace the current GRE General Test. With this change, scores for the GRE Revised test will be delayed. GRE test takers who take the GRE Revised General Test August 1 through November 28th, 2011 will not receive their scores from ETS until mid-November through mid-December. Refer to the chart below to determine which test you should take in order to meet our application deadlines. Please visit http://www.ets.org/gre/revised_general/about/ for additional information about this change.
